THE NEXT ADDICTIVE THRILLER SERIES KEEPS READERS GUESSING IN ADRENALINE-FUELED ADVENTURE

A fast-paced thriller that puts the pedal to the metal from page one, Restorations* April 20, 2019, Koehler Books, the highly-anticipated series by Charles Strickler starts off with a bank robbery and a car chase, and the action doesn't slow down there. The car in question is a 1928 Stutz Black Hawk Boattail Roadster and it's almost 100 years past its prime when it resurfaces. Miles West, an investment banker who has veered off course after the death of his wife and parents, has no idea that the antique car he's so enamored with may be the thing to give him a destination again.

Mysterious jewels, old gold pieces and a coded journal found in the car motivate Miles to dig into a very murky past. With the assistance of Bramley Ann Fairchild, the New York City auctioneer who abandoned her prestigious job at Christie's to take care of her ailing mother in Miles' farm town, Miles sets out on a breakneck adventure. The pair must evade a ruthless Mafia boss who seeks to acquire the car and the treasure for himself while resolving their own dramatic personal histories.

"This story is a mystery that reveals layer after layer as the reader is drawn deeper into the story," Strickler says. "On one level there are four different restorations that occur: the restoration of a man, an antique car, a lost fortune, and a family name. On another level, it is also a story about people overcoming adversity in small and large ways."

Fans of Steve Berry, Douglas Preston and Lincoln Child will devour this suspenseful thriller.

ABOUT Charles Strickler:

Charles Strickler is a native Virginian. He graduated from Virginia Tech where he also met his future bride Mary. An entrepreneur with work experiences that range from the barnyard to the Board Room, Charles brings a unique perspective to his mysteries. Charles is an advocate for the fight against Polycystic Kidney Disease, a mystery he does not like. PKD is a genetic disease affecting 200,000 people per year. While there is no cure yet, the PKD Foundation continues to fund promising research to discover treatments that can slow the progression and eventually end this disease.
